The Night Before Christmas

(A Visit From St. Nicholas)

by Clement Clarke Moore

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse.

The stockings were hung by the chimney with care,
In hopes that ST. NICHOLAS soon would be there.

The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar-plums danced in their heads.

And mamma in her 'kerchief, and I in my cap,
Had just settled down for a long winter's nap.

When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from the bed to see what was the matter.

Away to the window I flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash.
The moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow
Gave the lustre of mid-day to objects below.

When, what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh, and eight tiny reindeer.
With a little old driver, so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick.

More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,
And he whistled, and shouted, and called them by name.

"Now, DASHER! now, DANCER! now, PRANCER and VIXEN!
On, COMET! on CUPID! on, DONNER and BLITZEN!
To the top of the porch! to the top of the wall!
Now dash away! dash away! dash away all!"

As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky,
So up to the house-top the coursers they flew,
With the sleigh full of toys, and St. Nicholas too.

And then, in a twinkling, I heard on the roof
The prancing and pawing of each little hoof.
As I drew in my hand, and was turning around,
Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound.

He was dressed all in fur, from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot.
A bundle of toys he had flung on his back,
And he looked like a peddler just opening his pack.

His eyes -- how they twinkled! his dimples how merry!
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry!
His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard of his chin was as white as the snow.

The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath.
He had a broad face and a little round belly,
That shook, when he laughed like a bowlful of jelly.

He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf,
And I laughed when I saw him, in spite of myself.
A wink of his eye and a twist of his head,
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.

He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work,
And filled all the stockings; then turned with a jerk,
And laying his finger aside of his nose,
And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose.

He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like the down of a thistle
But I heard him exclaim, ere he drove out of sight,

"HAPPY CHRISTMAS TO ALL,
AND TO ALL A GOOD-NIGHT."

From all of us,
warm wishes for a
Happy Holiday Season . . .

Dunmorean of Month: Rocco Riccardo

By Steve Svetovich

Riccardo's Market has been a part of Dunmore for the past 100 years.

And current owner and operator Rocco Riccardo, Dunmore, has been a major part of it for 45 of those 100 years.

There have been only three locations in 100 years.

The business has been owned by four generations of Riccardos.

Originally owned by his great-grandfather Salvatore Riccardo, the family-owned business originated in the early 1920's.

"Our family was produce people back then," said Rocco, 59. "Those were the horse and buggy days. We were hucksters."

Riccardo's original location was where DePietro's Pharmacy is today at 617 Third St Dunmore.

In 1993, Rocco took over the family business and bought the old Giant Market building on Blakely Street near the Dunmore police station and borough building. Riccardo's Market occupied that location from 1993 until 2009.

In 2009, Riccardo's moved to its current location at 1219 Wheeler Ave., Dunmore.

Son of Betty and Salvatore Riccardo, Rocco has been working in the family business full-time since he was 14. "I used to go there right after school and on weekends. I worked 40 hours a week while I was in high school."

Rocco's grandfather, also Rocco, took over the family business in the 1930's. Eventually Rocco's dad Salvatore took over Riccardo's Market. Rocco has been running the family business since 1993.

Rocco is married to the former Nancy Jennings. The couple has five children: Anna, 40, Sal, 38, Lexxus, 24, Elizabeth, 21, and Michael, 15.

The couple has two grandchildren: Anna Lea, 6, and Aribella, 3. Riccardo's Market is open seven days a week, Monday to Saturday from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sunday from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Rocco said his market has functioned extremely well throughout the COVID-19 pandemic.

"Like everybody else," he said, "we followed all protocols. We socially distanced and followed the mask mandate. We put up the plexiglass screens at the checkout lines."

"Most of our employees were vaccinated. We have a great relationship with Tommy DePietro of DePietro's Pharmacy across the street. He took care of all of our people with the vaccinations for COVID."

"The Riccardo and DePietro families go back over 100 years. The two families used to be neighbors in the Bunker Hill section of Dunmore."

Rocco, always a hard worker and people person, said his busy months are usually September to May. "Right now in December we are really busy. People are out shopping for their holiday food."

At 59, Rocco is showing no signs of slowing down, generally working seven days a week.

"I've been doing this full time, seven days a week for 45 years now. That's a long time. I worked for my grandfather and then my dad. I plan on doing this a few more years. I still feel young."

"There is an open invitation for my son to take over someday. He is in commercial refrigeration. He owns SR Mechanical. I can always go work for him when I eventually retire."

Rocco is a 1981 graduate of Bishop O'Hara High School. He also has a pilot's license and studied welding at Johnson School of Technology.

"I used to own a plane, but got rid of it a few years ago."

Rocco, still full of energy, enjoys serving the public.

"I love what I do. I wake up every day and can't wait to get to work. I want to keep going. They change the rules all the time and you need to keep up with the times."

"If my son or other kids ever want to take over, they are welcome to it.

"But right now it is business-as-usual for me, I'm doing it for a very long time and enjoy it. I enjoy the work and the people."

Doin' Dunmore

With Steve Svetovich

Local music product Alyssa Lazar's earliest gigs as a teenager included a few Dunmore spots.

And with a new release of her album, "Hopeless Romanticism," Alyssa will be returning to one of her old stops, Crotti's on Ash, just a few blocks up the street from Dunmore's Schautz Stadium, Sunday, Dec. 26. She will be performing from 8 to 10 p.m.

Daughter of Mark and Maureen Lazar, Alyssa, 22, is home on a holiday visit. She has spent her past four plus years in Nashville, Tennessee, where she recently received a bachelor of arts degree.

in commercial music with an emphasis in writing from the Belmont School of Music in Nashville.

Alyssa embraces a unique set of genres on her new 7-song EP. She wrote all the songs and music. The album, released this past Nov. 17, mixes pop and rock sounds with elements from other eras.

The EP is available on iTunes and Amazon and can be streamed on Spotify, Apple Music and Tidal. Alyssa plays guitar, but piano is her primary musical instrument.

Her favorite artists, who she plays when performing, include Elton John, Lady Gaga and Billy Joel.

Her rendition of Billy Joel's "Piano Man" is scintillating. And likely to be heard at Crotti's on Ash the day after Christmas.

Alyssa describes her music as piano-influenced pop/rock. Her fans often brand her shows as "Elton John meets Lady Gaga."

Alyssa started performing at the tender age of four.

By the time she was 15, Alyssa was performing in local venues, bars and restaurants throughout Northeast PA. Crotti's on Ash, Andy Gavin's in Green Ridge, and LaCucina in Dunmore were among her regular spots for performances.

Others included the V-Spot, Russell's Restaurant, Duffy's Coffee House, Sydney's Lounge and the old McNally's in Green Ridge.

Now she performs regular gigs in Nashville, including the 5 Spot where Lady Gaga performed while touring.

Alyssa's new EP, includes two instrumental interludes.

"Hopeless Romanticism" combines today's pop rock sound, the intricacy of 1970's rock, with hints inspired by the music of the romantic era. It is riddled with chorale-like background vocals, piano and live strings performed by Jonathan Yudkin.

Yudkin has performed on albums of artists such as Taylor Swift and Bon Jovi.

Alyssa thoroughly enjoys song writing as much as playing piano and guitar. "This is the sound I was looking for with this EP," she said.

"It incorporates every musical aesthetic that I love the most and feels like the embodiment of who I was meant to be as an artist. I always loved classical and soundtrack music, but this is made to fit the pop/rock genre of today. "The EP takes what are true experiences of those close to me or even the imagination of a true experience and romanticizes it.

"Some of the songs are very raw and vulnerable.

"Each song is inspired by a different mood or event that may have happened in the romantic era of the 1800's and early 1900's. There is an emphasis on art and romance. There are several instrumental interludes."

Alyssa Lazar will perform In Dunmore on Dec. 26

Alyssa said she performs two or three nights a week in Nashville.

"Being discovered is so different now," she said. "It happens, but you need to grow and build a following. It's not a thing that happens a lot, but it does.

"I focus on the places and venues where I am able to play my music and grow on my own. I don't necessarily look for a break, but look to grow and grow as a musical artist and songwriter."

The talented musical artist said she attended the Nashville Country Music Awards in 2017 and 2018. She even met country music legend Keith Urban. "He was very nice and had a good sense of humor. He even took the time to ask me about my career."

You can find Alyssa's new EP on most streaming platforms. She will be performing her songs from the EP along with other originals and classics during her appearance at Crotti's on Ash the night after Christmas.

DePietro's employees offered free tuition at Lacka. College Employees at DePietro's Pharmacy in Dunmore will get a chance to attend Lackawanna College tuition-free in a new partnership agreement announced last week.

Under the agreement, DePietro's employees who meet the requirements for the pharmacy's tuition program will be offered a Lackawanna College Business Partners Scholarship.

The agreement will allow employees to attend Lackawanna College tuition-free to pursue a bachelor's or an associate degree.

"Working together with our local and regional businesses continue to help us understand and answer some of our labor force needs," said Dr. Jill Murray, Lackawanna College President.

"Partnering with DePietro's Pharmacy will give employees a path to careers in growing and in-demand fields like healthcare."

Dr. Murray also states that these partnerships help solve the social and economic issues of a growing national workforce shortage and the rising cost of tuition, keeping college affordable and accessible.

"The Lackawanna College Business Partnership Scholarship initiative is a great program that helps the College connect with the NEPA workforce," said Jeff Gregory, Director of College Enrollment Partnerships.

"Partnering businesses can offer employees a valuable incentive that helps retain their employees as well as hiring additional employees by helping them achieve additional skills."

"At DePietro's Pharmacy, we would not be successful without the hard work and effort given by all our employees.

"On a daily basis, I strive to show my appreciation for their commitment to our customers. This partnership will truly provide a life-changing experience for my team and future employees," says Thomas DiPietro, pharmacist and owner.

The public-private partnership is one of many that are in the works at Lackawanna College that will cover a student's full tuition.

Children can combine pediatric vaccine with pictures with Santa

The Wright Center for Community Health is combining holiday tradition and spirit with an important public health initiative in December to ensure every family member in Northeast Pennsylvania can safely celebrate the joyous holiday season.

"Pictures with Santa," will enable children of all ages to carefully recite their wish list to the jolly old elf, as parents snap pictures of the treasured moment and participate in one of the vaccine clinics. The Wright Center will be offering the pediatric Pfizer COVID-19 vaccine for children, ages 5-11, with their parent's permission, and vaccines for adults.

The holiday-themed events will be available free to the public at The Wright Center for Community Health's Scranton Practice, 501 S. Washington Ave., Scranton, on Friday Dec. 3 from 2-5:30 p.m., and Mid Valley Practice, 5 S. Washington Ave., Jermyn, on Sunday, Dec. 5 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

The pediatric Pfizer vaccine will be available at both vaccination clinics.

The Moderna vaccine will be administered at the Scranton Practice and the Mid Valley Practice will have the Moderna and Pfizer vaccines for people who are 12 and older.

To schedule a vaccine appointment at the Scranton or Mid Valley practices, go to TheWrightCenter.org and click on the "make an appointment" link at the top, center of the page and follow the directions.

The vaccine clinic will be available simultaneously at both locations during "Pictures with Santa."

Parents can choose to have their children vaccinated before visiting Santa or after the annual tradition. The special event enables children and their families to participate in the holiday festivities in a safe and socially-distanced manner and meet Santa for a picture.

Guests are invited to capture the special moments with their personal cameras.

COVID-19 masking will be required for everyone who participates in the event.

"Vaccination is the best tool to keep ourselves and our children safe from COVID-19," said Geraldine McAndrew, the director of Patient & Community Engagement.

"We carry our mission directly into the communities we serve, and hope to take the opportunity to encourage children and families to get vaccinated."

To reserve a time for a photo with Santa, please call McAndrew at 570-267-4199 or email her at McAndrewG@TheWrightCenter.org.

Pfizer, Moderna booster shots being offered

The Wright Center for Community Health is now administering booster doses of the Pfizer and Moderna COVID-19 vaccines for all adults.

Anyone 18 and older who received their Pfizer or Moderna primary vaccine at least six months ago or received a Johnson & Johnson dose at least two months ago can make an appointment.

Adults seeking a Pfizer booster can make an appointment at The Wright Center for Community Health's Mid Valley Practice, 5 S. Washington Ave., Jermyn. Moderna boosters are available at all other Wright Center locations, including, Clarks Summit Practice, 1145 Northern Blvd., South Abington Township; Hawley Practice, 103 Spruce St., Hawley; Kingston Practice, 2 Sharpe St., Kingston; Scranton Counseling Center, 329 Cherry St., Scranton; Scranton Practice, 501 S. Washington Ave., Scranton; South Franklin Street Practice, Wilkes-Barre, and West Scranton Intermediate School-Based Health, 1401 Fellows St., Scranton.

To make an appointment, visit TheWrightCenter.org or call 570-230-0019.

Great Meats ... And A Great Deal More!

3410 N. Main Avenue, Scranton | (570) 343 - 1294

Exit 190 off I-81 | myschiffs.com

Many meats can star at Christmas meal

What is your favorite meat to serve for Christmas? Mine is Prime Rib.

Many area restaurants which served prime rib have eliminated it from their menus since Covid. If you're fortunate enough to find one at a good price, grab it and freeze it for that special day.

However, there are many other options (none cheap today) that have made their way to my Christmas table in previous years. This month I'm sharing some of my favorite recipes for preparing meat for that special day.

PRIME RIB

1-5 lb. prime rib (with or without bones)

1 stick butter, softened at room temperature

Salt and pepper to taste

4 Garlic cloves, cut in halves or quarters

Let roast sit out at room temperature at least 2 hours before cooking. When ready to cook, put slits in roast and insert garlic cloves.

With your hands, spread softened butter all over roast. Season with salt and pepper. Place meat on rack in stainless roaster. Preheat oven to 500 degrees.

Roast 5 minutes per pound for Rare; 6 minutes per pound for Medium; 7 minutes per pound for Well Done.

Turn oven off and DO NOT OPEN oven for 2 hours. Test with meat thermometer. Remove from oven and loosely cover with foil. Should rest about 20 minutes before serving.

RARE: Pull out at 115 F, final rested temperature= 120-129F

MEDIUM RARE: Pull out at 125F, final rested temperature =130-134F

MEDIUM: Pull out at 130F, final rested temperature=135-144F

MEDIUM WELL: Pull out at 140 F, final rested temperature=145-154F

WELL: Pull out at 150F, final rested temperature =155-164F

A friend of mine recently asked me for my recipe for Short Ribs. This is another option for a special meal....Christmas table-worthy.

SHORT RIBS BRAISED IN RED WINE

6 lbs. bone-in English-style short ribs

Salt and pepper

3 cups dry full-bodied red wine

2 large onions, chopped medium

2 large carrots, chopped medium

2 large celery stalks, chopped medium

9 medium garlic cloves, chopped (about 3 Tbsp.)

1/4 cup all-purpose flour

4 cups chicken stock or combination of chicken and beef stock or broth

1-14.5 oz can diced tomatoes

1 1/2 Tbsp. minced fresh rosemary leaves (you can use 3/4 Tbsp. dried)

1 Tbsp. minced fresh thyme leaves (you can use 1/2 Tbsp. dried)

3 medium bay leaves

2 Tbsp. tomato paste

Adjust oven rack to lower-middle position and preheat oven to 450 F. Arrange short ribs, bone side down, in single layer in large flameproof roasting pan (13x9x2); season with salt and pepper. Roast until meat begins to brown, about 45 minutes; drain off all liquid and fat with bulb baster. Note: I remove ribs to platter and pour off liquid fat). Return ribs to pan and put back in oven and continue to cook until meat is well-browned, 15-20 minutes longer.

Cheryl's Cuisine

By Cheryl Radkiewicz

Note: At this point, I debone the ribs, butting fat caps off. Discard bones and fat caps. Place meat and veggies in casserole in refrigerator to cool overnight. Pull out bay leaves and discard. Put sauce into separate bowl in refrigerator to cool. When sauce is cooled overnight, scoop off any fat from top and discard. Then place sauce and meat together in large pot. Simmer until everything is just heated through.

Serve with mashed potatoes..... heavenly!!! This dish is very rich.

STEAK DIANE

2 Tbsp. butter, divided
12 oz. beef tenderloin, cut into 3 oz. medallions
Salt, to taste
2 tsp. cracked black pepper
3 Tbsp. white onions, chopped
1/2 cup sliced fresh mushrooms, like Baby Bella
1/4 cup brandy or white wine (I use brandy)
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 Tbsp. Dijon mustard
1 cup beef stock
1/4 cup heavy cream

Preheat oven to 350 F. Heat large skillet over medium heat. Add 1 Tbsp. butter to the hot pan and heat until it foams. Season beef with salt and pepper, pressing pepper into steaks. Add first steak to skillet and sear, cooking no more than 1-2 minutes before turning it over and cooking 1 minute on the second side. Remove steak from pan to warm oven-proof platter. Repeat with remaining steaks. Keep steaks warm in low oven. After steaks are all in oven, add chopped onion to skillet, adding more butter if needed. Cook 2 minutes until translucent.

Add mushrooms and saute' 1-2 minutes. Add brandy or wine and Worcestershire sauce to pan; bring quickly to boil. Stir in mustard.

Annual Yuletide memories shared by Nibs & family

By Steve Svetovich

It is easy getting into the Christmas spirit with former Dunmore Mayor Patrick "Nibs" Loughney and his wife Donna who love all the Yuletide traditions.

Nibs and his wife always have fond memories of Christmas past and like to keep the traditions alive.

And it's that on going spirit that sparks Christmas memories for Nibs and his wife in the winter wonderland of Dunmore.

In years past, this scribe would call Nibs mid December and the former mayor would fondly recall his most classic Christmas memories growing up in Dunmore.

"Remember the huge, oversized Christmas light bulbs?" he asked. "You can't find them anymore. Those unique, big light bulbs made a unique popping sound when they busted.

"I knew a lot of kids in the neighborhood who liked popping them. It was fun.

"You know, they have upside down Christmas trees now. That's a big change.

"We always had a real tree when I was a kid. My dad would take the whole family out looking for a tree. It was a big event. And he would never take the first tree he looked at. You definitely don't see that anymore.

"My dad took his time looking for a tree. He took three or four days and sometimes even a week to find one. It had to be the perfect tree. A lot of people followed that same custom.

"Today it is different. You find the first tree you spot. People do not have the time anymore. It is so different now."

Nibs said there is a local landscaper who will take a Christmas tree right to your door now. "You don't even pick it out."

Nibs remembered the old train sets. "I would love to find the old Lionel trains. The train took a different turn. Remember that?"

"We would sit for hours and play with the trains. Remember the shock they made when they crashed? Kids in my day loved that."

Nibs has fond memories of silver aluminum trees. "I haven't seen any of them lately."

The former mayor's wife Donna fondly remembers her mom and sisters making ornaments out of wood and painting them like the 12 days of Christmas. "My mom and sisters painted the 12 days of Christmas and decorated the tree," she said.

"We still have those wooden ornaments."

Nibs said one of his favorite memories is of the old Globe Store Santa Claus. "We would get on the escalator at The Globe and go to the fourth or fifth floor to see Santa. And we did it with great anticipation.

"We would sit on Santa's lap and get a little lapel pin. Remember the little lapel pin? You just had to get one of them. It's nose would light up. You would get one picture with Santa and treasure it."

Nibs remembers the tradition of following up the Santa visit with lunch at the Charlmont.

"Remember the chefs with the big chef hats making the roast at the Charlmont? It always smelled so good."

Donna has vivid memories of Christmas Eve with family. "We would go to Christmas Eve mass," she said. "The whole crew would go. Then we would visit each other's homes. We used to have a silver aluminum family Christmas tree. We had so much fun with our traditions."

Nibs said it used to be a huge deal to look at Christmas lights. "My dad would take the whole family out and drive around for hours looking at Christmas lights. It was a big deal in those days and we made a night of it."

Nibs said you don't see kids sleigh riding as much as in days gone by. "Remember sleigh riding and making snowmen? You would use buttons for the snowman's eyes and nose and he would always wear a hat. You would put the hat on him at the end. Then you had the perfect snowman.

"You don't see many snowmen anymore. It's a lost art."

Nibs said toys and games have changed too. "Remember the old Rock Em' Sock Em' Robots? They actually made a comeback and are in stores again. We had only the generic game of Operation. Then came the Shrek game of Operation. Now there are all kinds of games of Operation.

"Today there are many computer games. Computers were just a thought in our day."

Nibs said he remembers the old rubber snow boots. "Your mom would make you wear them. They had a lot of buckles in them all the way to the top. It took some work (Please Turn to Page 16) to get them on. It was very challenging. If they were not buckled right, snow would get right in to your socks. Remember that?"

Donna talked more about Christmas family traditions. "It's been a long standing tradition to have my family and friends at my house early Christmas morning. My sister Pamela, who is mentally challenged, lives with us. She still gets excited.

"We do the whole Christmas thing. We open gifts, have a big breakfast and then the whole family comes over.

"We would go to my sister Rose's house. And then back to our house.

"It is really special for my sister Pamela. She writes a letter every year to Santa. She does that to this day. It is pure joy to watch her wait for a reply. She waits for the mailman every day until she gets that reply."

Yes, there really is a Santa Claus.

Just ask Donna's sister Pamela.

Dunmore's Caitlin Allyson collaborates on Joplin book

Dunmore native, Caitlin Allyson, has collaborated with renowned photographer, Elliott Landy, on his new book Photographs of Janis Joplin On the Road & On Stage.

Allyson designed the book and was the editorial director for the project.

The 196-page hardcover book features both Landy's iconic as well as many never-before-published images of Janis.

The photographs are accompanied by Janis' candid thoughts taken from conversations and interviews recorded by David Dalton, a founding editor of Rolling Stone magazine, while on tour with Janis in 1970.

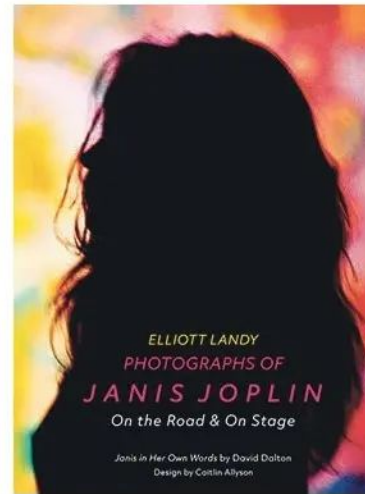

Landy's photographs portray both the public and private lives of Janis, offering an intimate behind the scenes glance at her brief yet groundbreaking years of fame.

According to Allyson, a Kickstarter campaign in support of the book was recently launched and will run until Dec. 21, 2021 at 11:59 p.m. EST.

The Kickstarter Campaign link is: <http://kck.st/3wsg7ez>

Kickstarter supporters are offered a variety of unique rewards, which include advanced signed copies of the book, fine art prints, lithos, and more at discounted pricing.

Caitlin writes: "Elliott & I were scheduled to have an exhibition together at ArtWorks Gallery &

Studio in the spring of 2020, but that was cancelled due to the pandemic. At the start of the pandemic, Elliott asked if I would be interested in designing a book. I said yes without hesitation.

"It's such an honor to be on this project. Elliott has always been one of my favorite photographers, and music from the 60's has always been one of my favorite genres. I find that whole era magical.

"For the book, we looked at every negative and slide that Elliott took of Janis. The text that is paired with many of the photos was selected from extensive recordings of conversations and interviews with Janis made by David Dalton during the last year of her life.

"Elliott's goal in pairing Janis' words with her photos was to provide a personal insight into her life and career."

Best known for his classic "rock" photographs, Elliott Landy was one of the first music photographers to be recognized as an "artist".

His celebrated works include portraits of Bob Dylan (Nashville Skyline), The Band (Music From Big Pink and The Band album), Janis Joplin, Van Morrison (Moondance), Jimi Hendrix, Jim Morrison, etc. He was the official photographer of the 1969 Woodstock Festival.

Caitlin Allyson is a 2009 graduate from Dunmore High School, and received her Bachelors of Arts in Visual Arts and a double concentration in Photography and Printmaking with a specialization in Art Therapy cum laude from Keystone College.

Allyson's skills are well-rounded in many forms of media, however her expertise lies in both traditional and digital photography, design, and curating.

She has exhibited her work her artwork throughout Northeast Pennsylvania.

Caitlin has worked as a curator and event planner for galleries in NEPA, as a photography teacher at Arts Alive in Scranton, and as an art teacher for ArtWorks Gallery & Studio. She currently works as a designer for Elliott Landy.

Marywood sets holiday concerts

Christmas traditions at Marywood University continue this year, with protocols in place to ensure safe, in-person experiences, including cultural events.

As part of its "Making Spirits Bright" Christmas event series, Marywood is offering three holiday concerts, which are free and open to the public. Masking protocols must be followed at in-person events. Concerts include:

• Chamber Singers Holiday Concert, Sunday, Dec. 5, 4 p.m., at the Marian Chapel. This performance will include the famous "Alleluia" by Randall Thompson, the popular setting of "Lux Aurumque" by Eric Whitacre, and Carol Barnett's spectacular "Hodie," as well as carol settings and other sacred and secular music by American composers.

• Guitar Ensemble: Holiday Concert for a Global Community, Wednesday, Dec. 8, 7 p.m., at the Marian Chapel. This concert is being produced in partnership with Marywood's Center for Global Engagement. During the concert, hear a musical holiday message that Marywood President Sister Mary Persico IHM wrote especially for the event, spoken by the student musicians in several different languages.

• String Project Holiday Gala Concert, Thursday, Dec. 9, 6:30 p.m., at the Sette LaVerghetta Center for Performing Arts. This concert features the children and student teachers from Marywood's String Project. They will be playing music from around the world.

Rossetti Estate plans Yule event

The Rossetti Foundation for the Arts and Culture (RFAC) will host a Holiday Event at the Rossetti Estate located at 1005 Vine Str., Scranton, on Friday, Dec. 17, from 6 to 9:30 p.m.

Pianist Ken McGraw will entertain. Food and spirits will be served. Cathy Rist Strauch, mistress of ceremonies, will perform, along with Llew Miller, Marina Luree, Frank Carey, Abigail Zieger, and Matthew Merolla.

Also featured is the barbershop quartet, Vocal Accord, comprised of Raleigh Block, Don Overdorff, Lou Volpetti, and Dane Bower. In addition, Jason Pasnikowski will demonstrate the technique of glass blowing.

Crusader's junior Ron Prislupski selected as performer of the year

By Steve Svetovich

Holy Cross junior soccer player Ron Prislupski has a formula for achieving success.

And he is using it to his benefit, Son of Ron and Katie Prislupski, the All-Regional junior soccer player credits his dad with the formula.

"My dad always tells me to visualize success," he said. "So I always arrive an hour before a soccer match and go out on the field and practice plays.

"During the time I am out there, I visualize what I am going to do in the match. I practice my moves. I visualize success.

"My dad also teaches me to be humble. And having humility also leads to success."

Named the Times-Tribune Soccer Performer of the Year, the talented Holy Cross junior was named to the Pennsylvania Boys Soccer Coaches All-State team.

He was also the Lackawanna League Division II Player of the Year.

A second time All-Regional selection, he smashed school and Lackawanna League scoring records by netting 72 goals and now has a school record 110 for his career. He totaled 17 assists.

With great speed to beat defenders, he has ball skills and the vision to go through traffic and is a highly accurate shooter and passer.

He led the Crusaders to their first District 2 soccer title since 2009 and a state playoff berth.

He led the nation in goals per game.

An unselfish soccer performer, the scholar-athlete also excels in the classroom with a 4.0 academic average. His best academic subject is Math.

A three-year soccer performer at Holy Cross, he was named to the Lackawanna League Coaches All-Star team as a freshman.

A member of Student Council and the National Honor Society, he is a two-year member of the Holy Cross track and field team. He earned a silver medal in the 800 relay and bronze medal in the 800 meter run.

Well spoken and articulate, Ron said he wants to play soccer on the collegiate level.

"I want to major in finance in college and play soccer. I will choose a college where those two go hand in hand. Beyond that, I would like to play soccer on a professional level.

"My immediate goal is to help lead Holy Cross to a state soccer title next year."

A hard worker and confident, Ron said Holy Cross soccer coach Joe Dodgson is teaching him a lot. "He says it all starts with a game plan. He tells us we have the talent to get the job done. He tells us not to get frustrated and good things will happen."

The motivated junior who plays the striker position on the soccer team, said he was excited when he heard on Thanksgiving day about being named Performer of the Year.

"I was very happy. It is a great award. It was also nice to see my teammate Drew Smith being named with me to the All-Region team as a midfielder. That was equally exciting news."

Ron, polite in nature, said he enjoys music and would like to see Drake in concert.

He is thoroughly enjoying his experience at Holy Cross.

"I love it," he said. "Coming here is one of the best decisions I ever made in my life. The teachers, students, coaches and administration here are all so friendly and helpful. They all contribute to your success.

"It is like one big family."

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be taxed.
 And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)
 And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.
 And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judaea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David:)
 To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.
 And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.
 And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.
 And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.
 And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.
 And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.
 For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.
 And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.
 And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,
 Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

Yes Virginia, there is a Santa Claus!

Seasons Greetings from

O'MALLEY & LANGAN
LAW OFFICES

It was written in 1897 by Francis P. Church, who was, at that time, editor of the now defunct New York Sun. He wrote it in response to this letter.

{Dear Editor: I am eight years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, 'If you see it in The Sun, it's so.' Please tell me the truth. Is there a Santa Claus?}" – Virginia O'Hanlon.

Dear Virginia:

Your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except what they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little.

In this great universe of ours, man is a mere insect, and ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole of truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Clause. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they give to your life its highest beauty and joy.

Alas! How dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Clause. It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginia.

There would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus.

The most real things in the world are those that neither children nor men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders that are unseen and unseeable in this world.

You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart.

Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernatural beauty and glory beyond. It is all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No Santa Claus! Thank God he lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay 10 times 10,000 years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.
