Bucks Coach Kevin McHale has high expectations

By Steve Svetovich

Dunmore head football coach Kevin McHale has high expectations for his team as he enters his fifth year at the helm.

McHale replaced the late legendary Jack HENZES who retired five years ago due to health reasons.

Coach McHale played four years and coached 17 years under HENZES and is starting to develop a legacy himself.

He led the Bucks to an 8-4 record last season.

Dunmore defeated Riverside in the District 2 semifinals, 17-14, before losing to Lakeland, 20-14, in the District 2 championship game.

"We are starting this season with high expectations," coach McHale said. "We have a great group of seniors and a strong list of underclassmen. We've had a great off-season and are ready to go."

Senior Thomas Bowen will be back in his fourth season as the Dunmore starting quarterback.

"As a four-year starter," McHale said, "he just keeps getting better every year. We expect him to take a big jump in his senior year. He has the potential to be one of the best quarterbacks in Dunmore ever. We go as he goes. We will go as he continues to develop."

Bowen last season completed 83-of-165 passes for 1,179 yards and 13 touchdowns. He threw only seven interceptions. He added 116 yards on the ground and scored seven touchdowns rushing.

Senior linebacker Nick Donvito is the leader on defense. He recorded 111 tackles, including 24 solo, last season. The All Region senior linebacker had 14 tackles for losses. He added four interceptions, four fumble recoveries, 3-1/2 sacks, two extra point blocks, and two forced fumbles.

"He is an exceptional kid," coach McHale said. "He is a leader on defense and a team captain. He plays with pain and expects a lot from himself."

Other key returning players include senior wide receiver/defensive back Danny Pigga; senior wide receiver/defensive back Lorenzo Mitchell; senior tight end/defensive end Brayden Reuther; senior offensive and defensive lineman Chris Conte; senior running back/wide receiver/defensive back Domenic DeSando; senior running back/defensive back Jake Hickey; senior center Nick Tullio; senior offensive and defensive lineman Bryce Talutto; senior offensive and defensive lineman Nathan Reuther; senior offensive lineman/defensive end/punter Rogan Dougherty, and senior wide receiver/defensive back/punter Sean Gallagher.

Bowen also starts as a defensive back. Donvito is a running back on offense.

Pigga rushed for 345 yards on only 48 carries last season. He averaged 7.2 yards per carry and scored two rushing touchdowns. He also caught 19 passes for 294 receiving yards and four more touchdowns. The double threat averaged 15.5 yards per catch.

"Danny Pigga has big play capability potential," coach McHale said. "He makes big plays offensively, defensively and on special teams. He will be a big factor for us this season."

The hard-working McHale said DeSando and Hickey will also play big roles in the offensive backfield this season.

"Domenic DeSando and Jake Hickey will be our top two backs. We expect big things from them."

"Running the football is what we do. We are a run first team."

Hickey had 32 carries for 132 rushing yards, one touchdown and 4.1 yards per carry last season. He also caught four passes for 19 yards.

Assistant coaches under coach McHale are Michael Perry, Michael Barrett, Leonard Burke, Michael Burke, Damon Bowen, Jack Miles, Dave Rebar, Al Karaffa, Al Miller, Rocco LaCapra, and Mark Finan, Jr. "We will take things week-by-week," said coach McHale. "We expect to win every game."

"We only talk about a state championship here at Dunmore. That's always our goal, but we go week-by-week."

Doin' Dunmore

With Steve Svetovich

Talk about fulfilling expectations.

It happened in the summer of 1967 when the City found itself without a quarterback in the Dream Game.

Dunmore's Rich Revta was asked to do something he never did before.

Much to his surprise, he was thrust into the role as the starting quarterback for the City.

Revta was a superb athlete, but normally an offensive guard and linebacker on defense.

According to the legendary former Sunday Scrantonian Tribune sports editor Guy Valvano, Dunmore, in his book "The Dream Lives On," City coach Sam Donato looked around the football field on the first day of practice and quickly turned to Revta.

Revta said he was not intimidated or overwhelmed by the decision, but was "certainly nervous," according to Valvano's book.

Due to his great athleticism, Revta eventually fit into the new position.

Valvano, 94, wrote in his book: "As the game went along," Revta remembers, "everything seemed to be going all right. We had a good running attack, so I didn't have to pass much. I just had to hand the ball off to one of the backs.

"I remember that I threw one good pass."

That completion was for 15 yards, according to Valvano's book, putting the pigskin on the three-yard line. Two plays later, according to Valvano, Revta plunged into the end zone for a touchdown from the one-yard line.

Charlie DeNaples booted his second extra point to complete the scoring, all of which came in the first quarter as the City went on to defeat the County, 14-0.

Scranton Central's Joe Mesko scored the first touchdown for the City with a six-yard run. Revta also contributed a 14-yard run on a first quarter drive on a play in which he scampered and could not find an open receiver.

Revta completed three-of-nine passes in the win for 36 yards showing his strong leadership skills.

Valvano wrote: "I had never played quarterback before," said Revta. "Of course, as kids, we were all quarterbacks in touch football or playing in the backyard. It's not like I didn't have an idea about the position.

"In the Dream Game I just played it out. The best that I can recall is that we didn't have a quarterback on the City team. I don't recall if I volunteered or if coach Donato asked me to play the position. I think he did ask me. I don't think I would ever volunteer for something like that."

According to Revta, Armand Martinelli of West Scranton worked with the Dunmore star to get ready for the contest.

According to Valvano's book, Revta became comfortable in his new position under Martinelli's tutelage and felt more confident each day as the Dream Game approached.

Valvano wrote: "When you have that many good players on your team," Revta said. "It made playing quarterback that much easier for me. Supposedly, the County was the favorite. They had a good team and a lot of my buddies were on the team. It turned out to be a good time for me."

Barry Fetterman, who recruited Revta to attend Lehigh University, was in attendance that night.

Valvano wrote: "I think it was kind of a little shock for him (Fetterman) to see me playing quarterback," Revta said.

"I think I told Fetterman after the game that I was going to play

Dunmore's Rich Revta a hero for City team in 1967 Dream Game

linebacker at Lehigh."

Revta at first played as an offensive lineman in college. He soon returned to linebacker. He also played four years of baseball at Lehigh.

After graduating from Lehigh, he played four years of professional baseball as a hard-nosed catcher in the minor leagues.

Revta played minor league baseball from 1971 through 1974 for Geneva, Greenville, Rocky Mount, and Pittsfield, advancing from A to AA ball in the Washington Senators/Texas Rangers and Philadelphia Phillies organizations.

He batted .257, including a .290 season with .439 on base percentage in 1972 for Greenville. His career minor league on base percentage was a highly impressive .411 in 270 games. He was drafted by the Washington Senators.

The former Lackawanna Trail coach was a science teacher for 37 years and also served as visiting team clubhouse manager at Lackawanna County Stadium during the years of the Scranton Wilkes Barre Red Barons.

He has more than six decades involved playing or coaching sports, most notably baseball, football and golf.

Revta, 72, is currently on the committee for the Northeastern Chapter of the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame.

GOOD LUCK TEAMS!

Holy Cross to approach season one game at a time

By Steve Svetovich

One game at a time.

That's the approach this season for Holy Cross third-year head football coach Joe Giorgio.

The Crusaders did not win a game last season, finishing 0-10 after making it to the Eastern Conference title game in Giorgio's first season as head coach.

Holy Cross was 4-7 in coach Giorgio's first season as head coach.

"We are just going to try to get better week by week," he said. "That's the goal. We want to be competitive. We will play each game and measure ourselves after each one."

Coach Giorgio said right now there are only 20 kids out for the Holy Cross football team. And that means many of players will play both ways, offense and defense.

"A lot of the kids are going to be two-way players," he said. "That means we have to stay healthy."

"We only have two seniors, so a lot of sophomores and juniors will be playing."

"We are a real young team. A lot of these players got their feet wet last year. We will improve with each week of practice. I think next season we are going to be a really good team.

Coach Joe Giorgio

"This looks like more of a rebuilding team this season."

Last season there were 24 players on the Holy Cross football team.

Key returning players for Holy Cross this season include 6-2, 260 pound senior offensive and defensive tackle Chris Petrucci, 5-11, 230-pound senior center/linebacker Zach Minich, 5-9, 160-pound junior wide receiver/defensive back David Jennings, 5-10, 190-pound sophomore full-back/linebacker Leland Wudarski, 5-10 185-pound sophomore tail-back/linebacker Aiden Wudarski, and 5-11, 170-pound sophomore tight end/linebacker Kevin Vincent. Assistant coaches under Giorgio are Chris Coviello, Duncan Coolican, Mike Giorgio, Jake Gatto, Jim Tallarico, and Gene Pane.

Coach Giorgio said junior Josh Lentowski will be the starting quarterback.

"This is his first year playing football," said coach Giorgio. "He looks like a really good athlete.

He's picking up on things very well. We are very excited about him this season."

Lentowski is also a member of the Holy Cross basketball team.

Aiden Wudarski is expected to provide some strength in the running game.

"Aiden is a strong runner both inside and out," said coach Giorgio, "He's a hard runner and just a strong kid who works very hard. We expect very big things from him."

Aiden is also expected to be the punter this year.

The talk turned to defense.

"We are more athletic, but real young and inexperienced on defense this year," said coach Giorgio.

"Sophomore Leland Wudarski is an inside linebacker who got his feet wet last year. He is a strong kid and developing into an outstanding linebacker."

Minich is also expected to be a very solid player this season.

"We will take the games one at a time and keep getting better week by week."

Scranton Prep coach Terry Gallagher expects the best

By Steve Svetovich

Scranton Prep head football coach Terry Gallagher expects only high standards for his team.

Prep finished 9-4 last season, but won a district title.

Coach Gallagher will begin his eighth season as Scranton Prep head football coach.

“Our goal is always to win every single football game possible,” said the veteran coach.

“That is the standard here. We take one game at a time and expect to go as far as possible.”

Lewis Paris, a junior, will be the starting quarterback at Scranton Prep this season.

“He came in last year, competed, and won the quarterback job,” said coach Gallagher. “He really stepped his game up in weeks four and five. His passing continues to improve. He can really throw the ball. He’s tough, intelligent and super competitive.”

“He’s a great role model for the other players. And he has great leadership qualities. We are expecting even bigger things from him.” The junior signal caller ran the ball 136 times for 870 yards and 16 touchdowns,

A double threat, he completed 76-of-132 passes for 993 yards and nine touchdowns.

Fullback Max Shnipes is an outstanding lead blocker for a team that ran for more than 2,900 yards last season. He added eight carries for 47 yards and led the team in pancake blocks as a fullback with 29.

Nyeem Gonzalez, Cameron Palermo and Travis Sharples are key members of an offensive line for a team that rushed for over 2,900 yards last year. All three are two-year starters.

Quinten Palermo returns as a stalwart halfback. He rushed for 1,138 yards and 13 touchdowns last season. He also caught 11 passes for 57 yards and another touchdown.

Liam Barrett returns as a wide receiver. A triple threat, he had 17 carries for 159 yards and four touchdowns, snared 19 catches for 249 yards and three touchdowns and returned two punts for touchdowns.

Wide receiver Tae Weeks returns at wide receiver. He had 11 catches for 303 yards and two touchdowns. He also rushed five times for 72 yards and another touchdown.

Shnipes anchors the defense as a defensive lineman who last season recorded 66 tackles, four sacks, six tackles for losses, one fumble recovery and two forced fumbles.

“He is an old school football player,” coach Gallagher said. “His hits are outstanding. He’s very strong and just physically tough. He just gets better each season. He works hard in the off-season and is always in shape. He’s the strongest kid on the team. He works very hard in the weight room. He has multiple tasks for us on this team.”

“If you love old school football, you will love Shnipes.”

Other key returning defensive players include defensive linemen Ambrose Rossi and Travis Sharples; linebackers Andrew Summa, Reese Tanner and Aiden Britton, and defensive backs Tae Weeks and Liam Barrett.

Sharples had 38 tackles, seven tackles for losses and two fumble recoveries last year.

Coach Gallagher talked more about the offense. "Our running game features Quinten Palermo, who rushed for over 1,100 yards. We have high expectations for him.

"We have three kids returning up front. Our offensive line is anchored by Gonzales, Palermo and Sharples. Four or five other kids have experience and are competing for jobs.

"We will run the football. That's what we do. We have a lot of skilled kids in the backfield."

Coach Gallagher said he is looking at his team to be strong defensively. "Shnipes will anchor the line. We are strong at linebacker. We lost some all-state kids on defense, but we definitely have enough to be very good."

The confident coach is looking for another strong season. "We will add to the tradition and history. Our kids don't settle for second place.

"We need to play smart, disciplined, intelligent football.

"We will play tough, competitive football and win as many games as possible. We go into every game expecting to win."

Mia Irving makes history as first sophomore Miss Buck

By Steve Svetovich

There is a first time for everything in life.

Take Dunmore High School sophomore Mia Irving, for instance.

Daughter of Maura and Pat Irving, Mia is the first ever sophomore Miss Buck at Dunmore High School.

"It really is an honor," she said. "I put in a lot of hard work and it paid off. I couldn't be more grateful for the support."

Mia is a junior varsity basketball cheerleading co-captain. She has a highly impressive 98 grade point average. Her favorite academic subject is English.

Mia is a member of the French Club, Culture Club, SADD Club, and TACT.

"Even though I am younger and only a sophomore," she said, "I want to be a real role model that other girls can look up to. I want to show that even though I am young that I can handle the role of Miss Buck."

Mia said she has been a twirler for Sherry's Royalties under Sherry Rubino since the third grade.

"I learned so much from Sherry Rubino," she said. "She taught me to be a great twirler. She supported me so much. She gave me confidence. She is much more than a twirling coach. Sherry taught me and the other girls life lessons."

"She always says if you have a bad performance, you can pick yourself up and have a good one next time."

Mia also gives a lot of credit to her parents for being strong role models. "My parents always teach me to be kind to others. Just be a kind person. And they tell me to be hard-working. Hard work eventually pays off."

She said Maura Reilly, her cheerleading coach at Dunmore, has also been a mentor. "She also taught me about hard work and dedication," Mia said. "Never give up."

Confident and intelligent, Mia said she likes listening to music in her spare time and is a huge Billy Joel fan. "I would love to see him in concert."

Mia said she is enjoying her experience at Dunmore High School. "I absolutely love it," she said. "I could not ask for a better school community. I am very excited regarding the upcoming football season and the school year in general. It's going to be great."

The hard-working sophomore said she will never forget the moment she was named Miss Buck.

Dunmore Bucks senior linebacker Nick Donvito ready to lead the defense

By Steve Svetovich

The Dunmore Bucks football team has a defensive leader to be reckoned with.

Senior linebacker Nick Donvito is as tough as they come on the gridiron.

"He's an exceptional kid and our leader on defense," Dunmore veteran coach Kevin McHale said.

"He's a team captain who expects a lot from himself. He plays the game the right way and is not afraid of playing with pain."

Son of William and Ann Marie Donvito, Nick is a four-year member of the Dunmore football team. He was an All Regional selection at linebacker last season. He was all-state honorable mention and a Lackawanna League Coaches' first-team all-star at linebacker last season.

The hard-nosed senior linebacker recorded 111 tackles, four fumble recoveries and four interceptions as a junior.

He also ran for two touchdowns from his fullback position on offense last season.

Nick, 17, was an NPF all-star selection as a sophomore.

The scholar-athlete has a 3.5 grade point average at Dunmore. His favorite academic subject is social studies.

The hard working, tough-minded senior talked about what it takes to excel as a linebacker in high school football.

"You need good leadership skills," he said. "You have to love to play the game. And you can't be afraid to take people on."

The senior stalwart said he has learned a lot from coach McHale.

"He says to always give 100 percent on the field and in the classroom. Be a student athlete. But school always comes before football."

The four-year starter and captain said he is not sure where he will attend college yet, but would like to go to a Division I school to play football. "That's the goal," he said. "I'm thinking about possibly studying physical therapy. I'm not sure where I will go yet. I've thought about Penn State and the University of Delaware. The goal is to play Division I football. I want to do that, get a degree and be successful in my life."

A member of the Yearbook Club and National Honor Society at Dunmore, Nick said he loves listening to music in his spare time. He would like to see Sleepy Hollow, a rap artist, in concert.

He said his parents taught him a lot. "My parents always tell me to work hard and good things will happen. Surround yourself with good people." Confident and mentally and physically strong, Nick has a positive outlook on the coming football season for Dunmore.

"We are going to be better than last year," he said. "Our team has been working very hard. We worked extremely hard in the off season. We will not be satisfied with second place. Our team is going to be amazing."

The heart- and -soul of the Dunmore defense talked about the impact late Dunmore legendary coach Jack Henzes had on Dunmore football. "His recent passing shocked the Dunmore community," he said. "Obviously, he never coached me because he was retired. However, I would see him around. He had a huge impact not only on the people of Dunmore, but on all of Northeast Pennsylvania."

Always looking at the bottle as half full, Nick is enjoying his years at Dunmore as he approaches his senior season. "Dunmore is just amazing," he said. "I love the school. It's a great town and a great group of people."
